

ETHICS

A PERSONAL CHOICE – WITH SITUATIONAL IMPACTS – AFFECTING ORGANIZATIONS

LEADERSHIP AND ETHICS

THE RHETORIC OF LEADERSHIP

- Ethics
- Virtues
- Morals
- Values
- Principles – Behaviors – read a book or attend a class

THE RHETORIC OF LEADERSHIP

- Ethics
- Virtues
- Morals
- Values – Condition – define acceptable
- Principles – Behaviors – read a book or attend a class

THE RHETORIC OF LEADERSHIP

- Ethics
- Virtues
- Morals – Rule of thumb – always be a team player
- Values – Condition – define acceptable
- Principles – Behaviors – read a book or attend a class

THE RHETORIC OF LEADERSHIP

- Ethics
- Virtues – Right/Wrong – know and then do the right thing
- Morals – Rule of thumb – always be a team player
- Values – Condition – define acceptable
- Principles – Behaviors – read a book or attend a class

THE RHETORIC OF LEADERSHIP

- Ethics – Process – wrapping it all up
- Virtues – Right/Wrong – know and then do the right thing
- Morals – Rule of thumb – always be a team player
- Values – Condition – define acceptable
- Principles – Behaviors – read a book or attend a class

ETHICAL PROCESS

Even though leadership is impossible without followers, a person must first transform their own ethical theory into a process before they can teach or require ethical behavior from others. – Waggoner, J.